

CLASS DISMISSED BY DR. M'KANNA

Eighty-One Former Drunkards
Forsake the Demon and Declare Themselves Cured.

None of the eighty-one men who at 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon was discharged as cured of the liquor habit by Dr. J. J. McKanna would take a drink when it was offered him. Just before discharging the horde of free patients, Dr. McKanna lined them up. There was a full quart bottle in view. "Take one on me," he said, as one after another the men filed by; but the favorable answer was "No." Some of them supplemented the brief negative with "Never again," while some looked twice before parting with their former "good friend" forever. It was an inspiring sight, and one never to be forgotten. It was pitiful, too, because some of the men were ragged, and their rags were attributable to "the demon."

There was joy in the hearts of the eighty-one, but there were four not quite so jubilant. These four had entered upon the cure a day or two late, and the thirst was still on. They took a drink, but didn't seem to relish it much. "They'll be in the cure class to-morrow," said Dr. McKanna, as he turned to his medicine chest and prepared their doses.

The men in the free cure class represented almost every branch of citizenship. There were engineers, bookkeepers, merchants, laborers, one was formerly a financier, while two of the number claim a profession. Some of them have jobs waiting for them, while the others will be cared for by the Associated Charities until something to do is found.

The Pills That Cure Sciatica

That sciatic rheumatism can be cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is evidenced by the case of Mrs. Stewart McEwan, of Fort Hunter, Pa. She says:

"For five months I was under a doctor's care, suffering from what he termed chronic sciatic rheumatism. The disease settled in my hips and knees and I suffered intense darting pains. So severe was the pain at times that I would have to cry out, and sometimes I was perfectly helpless. My limbs were so sore that I was unable to bear the weight of the bed clothes over me. I was extremely nervous, had no color, and did not seem to have much blood. I had no appetite and food caused me great distress. I was constipated and suffered constantly from a dull throbbing headache."

"I had no strength and was reduced in flesh until I was a mere skeleton. As the doctor would not help me, I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which were recommended by an aunt. After using the pills a short time I noticed a decided change for the better, and I kept on with them until the rheumatism left me entirely."

METROPOLIS, ILL., November 5.—A monument to the memory of George Rogers Clark was dedicated at Fort Massie, near here, to-day. The memorial was presented under the auspices of the Illinois Society of Daughters of the American Revolution, to commemorate the first landing of Clark on Illinois soil and the probable first hoisting of the American flag over the State.

Clark landed at Fort Massie on June 24, 1778. The fort has recently been restored, an appropriation of $10,000 having been granted for that purpose by the Illinois Legislature. The fort is situated on the banks of the Ohio River.

Governor Deneen, of Illinois, delivered the principal address of the day, and received the park and monument on behalf of the State.

An interesting feature of the occasion was the delivery of the copy of the official order of Patrick Henry, Clark giving instructions which wrenched the entire control of the territory from the government of Great Britain. This document was presented by Mrs. S. W. Jamerson, of Roanoke, Va., agent of the Daughters of the Revolution of Virginia.

Kentucky and Virginia and Washington, D. C., were largely represented to-day in the dedication ceremonies.

He stated that he had increased the sales by one-half more than when the opposition business started. The witness said that every day in the trade knew that he was a Standard Oil man, but that for business reason it would not do to make it public. The witness said he made reports of his sales at Durham to the Standard, and the fact was also known to the Standard.

Telephone Talks

No. 2.

PUTTING aside, for the nonce, the telephone instrument, its mechanical and electrical features, the telephone operator is the most important part of the telephone business. It is absolutely necessary for the telephone user to come into personal contact with the operator before the telephone can be used.

Both the telephone user and the telephone operator are human, and when human nature asserts itself, no matter who is right or who is wrong, there is presented a problem of no small proportions for the telephone management to solve. Our operators are young women, residents of this city. They range in ages from sixteen to twenty-five years. They have undergone a physical, mental and educational test, and have shown an aptitude for the business in which they are engaged. They have been trained especially for the work, and there are strict rules from which they are not knowingly permitted to deviate.

When they do deviate from the rules there are proper disciplinary methods to prevent a recurrence.

The pay of the efficient operator is greater than that of the women who work in the average department store. She is seated all the time she is at work, there are liberal periods of rest for her and there is a supervisor at all times ready to render her assistance.

She is provided with comforts and conveniences, of which more will be said later, and our attitude toward her is one of interest, kindness and helpfulness.

Sarah's wound is a deep one above the right eye, about two inches long and almost to the bone. It was necessary to call the ambulance, and Dr. White, who was in charge, took several stitches.

Mr. Blauvelt later was recalled for further cross-examination. He admitted that the Eureka Oil Company and the Eagle Oil Company, while operated as independent companies, were in reality ramifications of the Standard Oil. He had started the Eagle Company, he said, in order to secure the trade of his old Baltimore customers. To do this he had to extend credit, a thing the Standard Oil Company would not do. MISSOURI FOR TAFT. Plurality Over Bryan 4,007—Other Counties Will Not Change Result.

ST. LOUIS, MO., November 5.—Returns compiled at 11 o'clock to-night from every county in Missouri give Taft a plurality over Bryan of 4,057. While complete returns are not in from every county yet, the returns are full enough to make a Republican victory in this State on the national ticket a certainty.

The plurality of Herbert S. Hadley, Republican, for Governor, has reached 16,787.

At 11 o'clock to-night the Democrats seem to be assured of control of the General Assembly by six votes on joint ballot. In the House the Republicans have seventy-three members and the Democrats sixty-nine. The Senate, however, is Democratic by the ratio of 22 to 12.

Late returns from the rural counties show surprising gains for Governor Folk in the contest with Senator William J. Stone for the Democratic senatorial nomination. John C. McHenry is still in the lead for the Republican senatorial nomination.

TOBACCO PRICES GOOD. Richmond House Sells High Price Upon Kentucky Product.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LEXINGTON, KY., November 5.—The tobacco-selling season for the South opened here to-day, and 160,000 pounds were sold at $11 to $12 per pound. The latter figure was obtained at the warehouse of Silas Shulburne & Son, of Richmond, Va., at whose house last season the highest prices prevailed.

Shulburne sold 25,000 pounds. American Tobacco Company bought nearly all offered, including the $23 grade.

The Lexington market sells only the anti-quity product, and as a result the whole city has been threatened by night riders, causing militia to be sent here for a while. A large part of the tobacco sold to-day was raised in fields under guard.

TAFT ON PROSPERITY

Says All Who Obey the Law Are Safe—Woe Betide Guilty.

CINCINNATI, O., November 5.—Speaking to the Cincinnati Commercial Club, of which he has been a member for fifteen years, William Howard Taft to-night sounded the keynote of his policy for the country for the next four years.

"Every business man who is obeying the law may go ahead with all the energy in his possession; every enterprise which is within the statutes may proceed without fear of interference from the administration, when acting legally; but all interests within the jurisdiction of the Federal government may expect a rigid enforcement of the laws against dishonest methods," was the keynote of what Mr. Taft said.

NATHAN STRAUS IN FIGHT

Discusses Politics in Tailor Shop and Hits Mr. Wasserman.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NEW YORK, November 5.—As the result of an argument in an uptown tailor shop this morning between Broke Edward Wasserman and Nathan Straus, the broker received a blooded eye and a slightly bruised cheek.

According to an account by a man who was in the shop at the time of the happening, Mr. Wasserman and Mr. Straus were engaged in an animated discussion over politics for several minutes before the fight broke out. Some one said: "That's a lie!" and then every one was surprised to see Mr. Straus strike Wasserman repeatedly.

Mr. Wasserman, according to this account, fell back upon a table. The table was covered with suitings and made an easy resting place. Mr. Bell and the clerks interposed, and Mr. Straus walked out. Mr. Wasserman followed in a few minutes.

Mr. Straus absolutely refused to discuss the episode.

HONOR WRIGHTS

Aero Club of France Pays Homage to the "Kings of the Air."

PARIS, November 5.—Frenchmen united this evening in honoring Wilbur Wright, the American aviator, whose remarkable achievements during the past few months in this country have placed him in the forefront of the men who have been solving the problem of the air. Mr. Wright was the guest at the dinner of the Aero Club of France, at which Mr. Jean Barthelemy, minister of public works, president and the occasion was made more memorable by the presentation to him of the Aero Club's gold medal, and the special medal of the Academy of Sports.

Among the 200 guests were practically all the experts and scientists interested in aviation.

Mr. Wright received an ovation, and was warmly eulogized by Mr. Barthelemy, who said that the French government desired officially to associate itself with the homage done Wilbur and Orville Wright for their marvelous achievements.

Mr. Wright, replying, accepted the
